CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL

Name: Kathy Littlefield

Occupation: Part Owner and Treasurer of NetXpert Systems, Inc.

I am a Scottsdale native and have been a resident activist in Scottsdale for many years. My goals for Council will be:

- approving conservative fiscal policies
- promoting tourism and small business
- protecting your rights as a Scottsdale resident
- defending Scottsdale's special character from harmful development, and above all,
- focusing on public safety to protect neighborhoods and keep you safe.

Because I am a fiscal conservative in deed as well as in word, I have fought to keep our taxes low. Last year I formed and chaired the Keep Scottsdale Special PAC to defeat the third-of-a-billion-dollar city property tax increase. When the bonds were rejected by voters in every precinct in Scottsdale by an overall ratio of 60/40, people saw I could make a difference in city government and encouraged me to run as the residents' voice on city council.

I support tourism and small business. I will work to attract new businesses and events to Scottsdale. I support the expansion of WestWorld, the Museum of the West, and completion of our beautiful McDowell-Sonoran Preserve. These amenities enhance our Western character and strengthen Scottsdale's tourism industry.

I support neighborhoods. I will stand with residents on issues of vital concern to their quality of life. Too often I have watched citizens ask Council to protect their neighborhoods from unwanted development, only to see their concerns go unanswered or even ignored! I will be your Councilmember who not only listens to you, but advocates for you at City Hall.

I support public safety. We must ensure all residents have a safe and secure environment in which to live, work and raise their families. I will vote to give police and firefighters the critical resources they need to keep you safe.

I would be honored to receive your vote in the upcoming city election.

Scottsdale is a beautiful place for us to live, for tourists to visit and for businesses to prosper. This didn't happen by accident; Scottsdale enjoys the same sunshine as neighboring cities, but we were blessed by financial strengths that came from a booming construction economy and substantial tax revenues from millions of tourists. We were also fortunate we had leaders of vision who foresaw possibilities of greatness. How do we insure future greatness?

We need Councilmembers who understand finance and will spend our tax dollars wisely. For more than three years, I was Scottsdale's City Treasurer and Chief Financial Officer. That was after thirty years in senior financial management, the last fifteen as Chief Financial Officer of multi-billion dollar government enterprises – The Tennessee Valley Authority and AMTRAK. I am the most qualified financial candidate in this race.

We need Councilmembers attuned to citizens' visions for improving the livability of Scottsdale. Since moving here nearly thirty years ago, my family has had a family footprint near Coronado High School, on McCormick Ranch and in north Scottsdale. The entire city is our "front yard." It matters to me – as it does to you – what our community is and becomes.

We need Councilmembers who understand the drivers of economic development. Besides my leadership experience in national businesses, my wife and I also owned Scottsdale Airpark News, winner of the Chamber of Commerce Small Business Award in 1995. I understand how to nurture and recruit both large and small businesses.

Citizens expect a transparent, financially responsible Council pursuing citizens' visions and supporting economic development – especially tourism, the bedrock of our economy. A vote for me supports responsible, visionary leadership and a pledge of civility working to insure Scottsdale continues as a beautiful place for us to live, tourists to visit and businesses to prosper.

Our great city is at a crossroads. There are candidates running for City Council who are trying to hold the city back from becoming a renowned city unlike any other in our country. These candidates attempt to tear down our city with their misguided and worn out campaign rhetoric.

This election is about selecting positive leaders who know Scottsdale is a special place to live and who are willing to make it even better, which is what I have done over the last four years while serving you on the Council. Four years ago, I made promises to balance our budget and to improve our economy and our quality of life. I have kept those promises.

Positive and constructive decisions don't happen by accident. A city must elect leaders who see what a community can become and then provide the leadership to make the collective vision become a reality. As your councilman, I stand for the fine qualities that have become hallmarks for Scottsdale. I am very committed to our community and its' future.

All cities face certain challenges. Perhaps our biggest challenge is to continue growing our diverse business sectors while we strive to maintain the southwest character and the open spaces in Scottsdale. Industries like technology and healthcare present great opportunities for employment, more commerce and economic growth. As a proven leader, I will advance initiatives that ensure proper job growth, improve our quality of life, and secure a viable vision for Scottsdale's future.

With your vote on November 4th, I will continue to focus on economic development, private-sector job creation, a balanced budget and the revitalization of the mature areas of our city. I truly believe that Scottsdale's best days are ahead of us. I respectfully and humbly ask for your vote.

I am honored and grateful to have received tremendous support in the Primary election, which has allowed me to move forward to the General election. My sincere appreciation goes out to the many small-business owners, community leaders and longtime residents who have backed my campaign to help build an even better Scottsdale.

I have lived in Scottsdale for 26 years. After moving here in 1988, I immediately fell in love with the energy, enthusiasm and eagerness of this city. My husband, Ron, and I have raised three children and put down roots in the community. Scottsdale is our home. We need positive leadership and that's why I'm running for the Scottsdale City Council this year. I want Scottsdale to be the best city that it can be, while maintaining our unique charm and character.

Scottsdale must change from a City of No to a City of Go. If you want to stand apart, you can't stand still. We need to attract and retain quality jobs by showing that we are open for, and welcoming of, business.

These priorities reflect my record in public service. As president of the Scottsdale Unified School District Governing Board, we worked together to overcome a horrible recession and manage a budget of $175 million while maintaining an A-rated school district. We also cut administrative costs by 21 percent during my last four years. I am the only non-incumbent candidate with experience as an elected official who had to make tough decisions and balance multimillion-dollar budgets.

As I consistently demonstrated during my time on the SUSD Board, I value your voice and want it to be heard. I am running to represent you. I look forward to seeing you on the campaign trail and hearing from you.

Thank you for your trust and overwhelming support in the primary election. I finished first in the primary and narrowly missed getting elected outright. I ask for your continued support so I may continue to work on your behalf.

I work to ensure that we respond to the changing world around us while keeping Scottsdale special. I apply the vision, expertise, and leadership skills I gained throughout my volunteer and business career to maintain and encourage civility, understand different points of view, and find solutions.

My first priority continues to be the financial strength of our City. A strong economy keeps our sales tax and property tax among the lowest in the region, while helping to pay for the high-quality services that we all enjoy.

Specifically, I have worked to:

- Create conditions that encourage private investment, spur business development, and stimulate job creation. Today, over half a billion dollars in private investment is being made in Southern Scottsdale.
- Make fiscally responsible investments that improve our quality of life. We have set aside money each year to maintain our infrastructure.
- Control costs to keep government small, keep tax rates low and ensure that more of our tax dollars go to providing quality services to citizens. City government is smaller and taxes are flat.
- Improve our transportation system to serve our city and encourage Valley residents to work, shop and play in Scottsdale. We are updating our transportation plan to improve our bus service today and to provide better connections and improved service in the future.

Scottsdale is a very special place. It is our home. We must prepare for the future while protecting and preserving the best from our past. I ask for your support and your vote so I may continue to build a positive and prosperous future for Scottsdale.
