

Does the IRS Owe Money to YOU or Someone You Know?

The AARP Tax-Aide program is available to help individuals, families and elderly taxpayers of low to moderate income prepare and file their income tax returns - free of charge. Taxpayers are reminded to bring last year's return, the amount of Stimulus Payment received and documentation of the real estate taxes paid in 2008.

Here are some important IRS tax credits and benefits that you may qualify for:

- Earned Income Tax Credit – May give you a refund if you are a low to moderate income worker
- Child Tax Credit – May reduce your tax and provide a credit for each child younger than 17
- Child and Dependent Care Credit – May be able to claim the credit you pay someone to care for your child younger than 13 so that you can work or look for work
- Education Tax Credit – May help you offset the cost of higher education by reducing income tax
- Real Estate Taxes – New tax laws allow the deduction of real estate taxes even when the taxpayer takes the standard deduction.

Find out if you are entitled to any refunds this year, including a property tax credit. Tax volunteers will help you prepare federal and state income taxes at no charge. Electronic filing is available at each site.
